

SLAVERY WAS AND REMAINS A PRODUCT OF TRAUMA-BONDING, SO IS RACISM, SEXISM, HOMOPHOBIA AND SEX-TRAFFICKING.

There are many narcissists in politics, in the entertainment industry and other areas of our lives. Narcissism is not new. What is new is the transparency of its symptoms and what we as a nation have been exposed to regarding the inclination of the survivor (us) to want to fix the problem. However, for narcissists there is no problem. So once again, we are confronted by choices, by free will, by self-examination, by accountability and responsibility if and when we are fortunate enough to retain those freedoms which is why the work being done to dismantle and disassemble them is so striking now. And why there has always been opposition to begin with.

In any aspect of the political arena, patriarchy still controls us with the historical imprint of narcissists, sociopaths and psychopaths. While voting it is up to you to change this paradigm: Get rid of the infantilism. Get rid of the rage-holic. Get rid of the manipulations and the trauma bonding you signed up for when you voted against your well-being and the well-being of humanity [all sentient beings.]

"The problem, of course, is that a narcissist can't be fixed because he was never right to begin with. In essence, the narcissist isn't really broken at all. He [or she!] simply is what he is and what he is no good. Why can't we disconnect from the Bad Man [or woman]? Well, there is an answer to this for those who seek a deeper psychological reason for the suffering and its condition."

My own opinion is many of us must re-think politics; the politics of interpersonal relations, the politics of socio-economic relations and the politics of citizenship and democracy. ~ Kaolin
